I am very pleased to announce that Scott W. Anderson has been appointed as the Director of the Population Health, Health Systems Relations Policy and Standards Branch, effective May 16, 2007.

As Director, Scott will be responsible for providing strategic direction and leadership for the development, communication and adoption of policies and standards related to Ontario's emerging population health issues, such as equity and aboriginal health. As well, Scott will provide strategic leadership on intergovernmental relations, system productivity and governance issues.

Scott comes to this role with significant strategic leadership skills along with an impressive background in policy development and government experience.
